Instructions – Proposal for Polson Institute Research Working Group

FALL DEADLINE - October 1, 11:59PM
SPRING DEADLINE - and March 1, 11:59PM

Proposals for Research Working Groups should address the following:

• How the proposed activities might contribute to the development of theoretical and conceptual advances that can inform research questions or innovative methodological approaches that will advance research, teaching, or outreach on development
• How the proposed group will contribute to the Department of Development Sociology and Cornell University beyond addressing the Polson Institute’s focus on development studies
• Activities for which financial support is needed, along with a budget
• Expected outcomes of the Research Working Group
• Participants, including leadership
• Proposals for the second year of an existing Research Working Group should summarize the group's accomplishments and indicate how additional funding will contribute to continued productivity and the accomplishment of original and/or new scholarly goals and objectives.
